The Hong Kong SAR Government has invited the Council for Sustainable Development to conduct a Public Engagement exercise in 2018-19 financial year, so as to tap and gauge the views of the community for developing Hong Kong's long-term decarbonisation strategies up to 2050 through stakeholders' engagement and public consultation. Being a key player in climate mitigation, the business sector is determined to contribute to a low carbon Hong Kong.

Participants will deepen understanding and gain insights on:

- First-hand knowledge on global and local developments in terms of climate action.
- Trends and norms in incorporating climate-related opportunities and risks into business strategy.
- Why businesses are setting ambitious decarbonisation targets, and approaches to achieve significant decarbonisation.
